Dear Parents and Teachers,

In an easy-reader format, My Readers introduce classic stories to children who are learning to read. Although favorite characters and time-tested tales are the basis for My Readers, the books tell completely new stories and are freshly and beautifully illustrated.

My Readers are available in three levels:

1 Level One is for the emergent reader and features repetitive language and word clues in the illustrations.

2 Level Two is for more advanced readers who still need support saying and understanding some words. Stories are longer with word clues in the illustrations.

3 Level Three is for independent, fluent readers who enjoy working out occasional unfamiliar words. The stories are longer and divided into chapters.

Encourage children to select books based on interests, not reading levels. Read aloud with children, showing them how to use the illustrations for clues. With adult guidance and rereading, children will eventually read the desired book on their own.

Here are some ways you might want to use this book with children:

- Talk about the title and the cover illustrations. Encourage the child to use these to predict what the story is about.
- Discuss the interior illustrations and try to piece together a story based on the pictures. Does the child want to change or adjust his first prediction?
- After children reread a story, suggest they retell or act out a favorite part.

My Readers will not only help children become readers, they will serve as an introduction to some of the finest classic children's books available today.

SQUARE FISH

New York

It was the first day of winter.
Rabbit and Mouse
hopped over to visit
the Gibble Goose Girls.

The Gibble Goose Girls
were asleep.
Their nests were covered in snow!

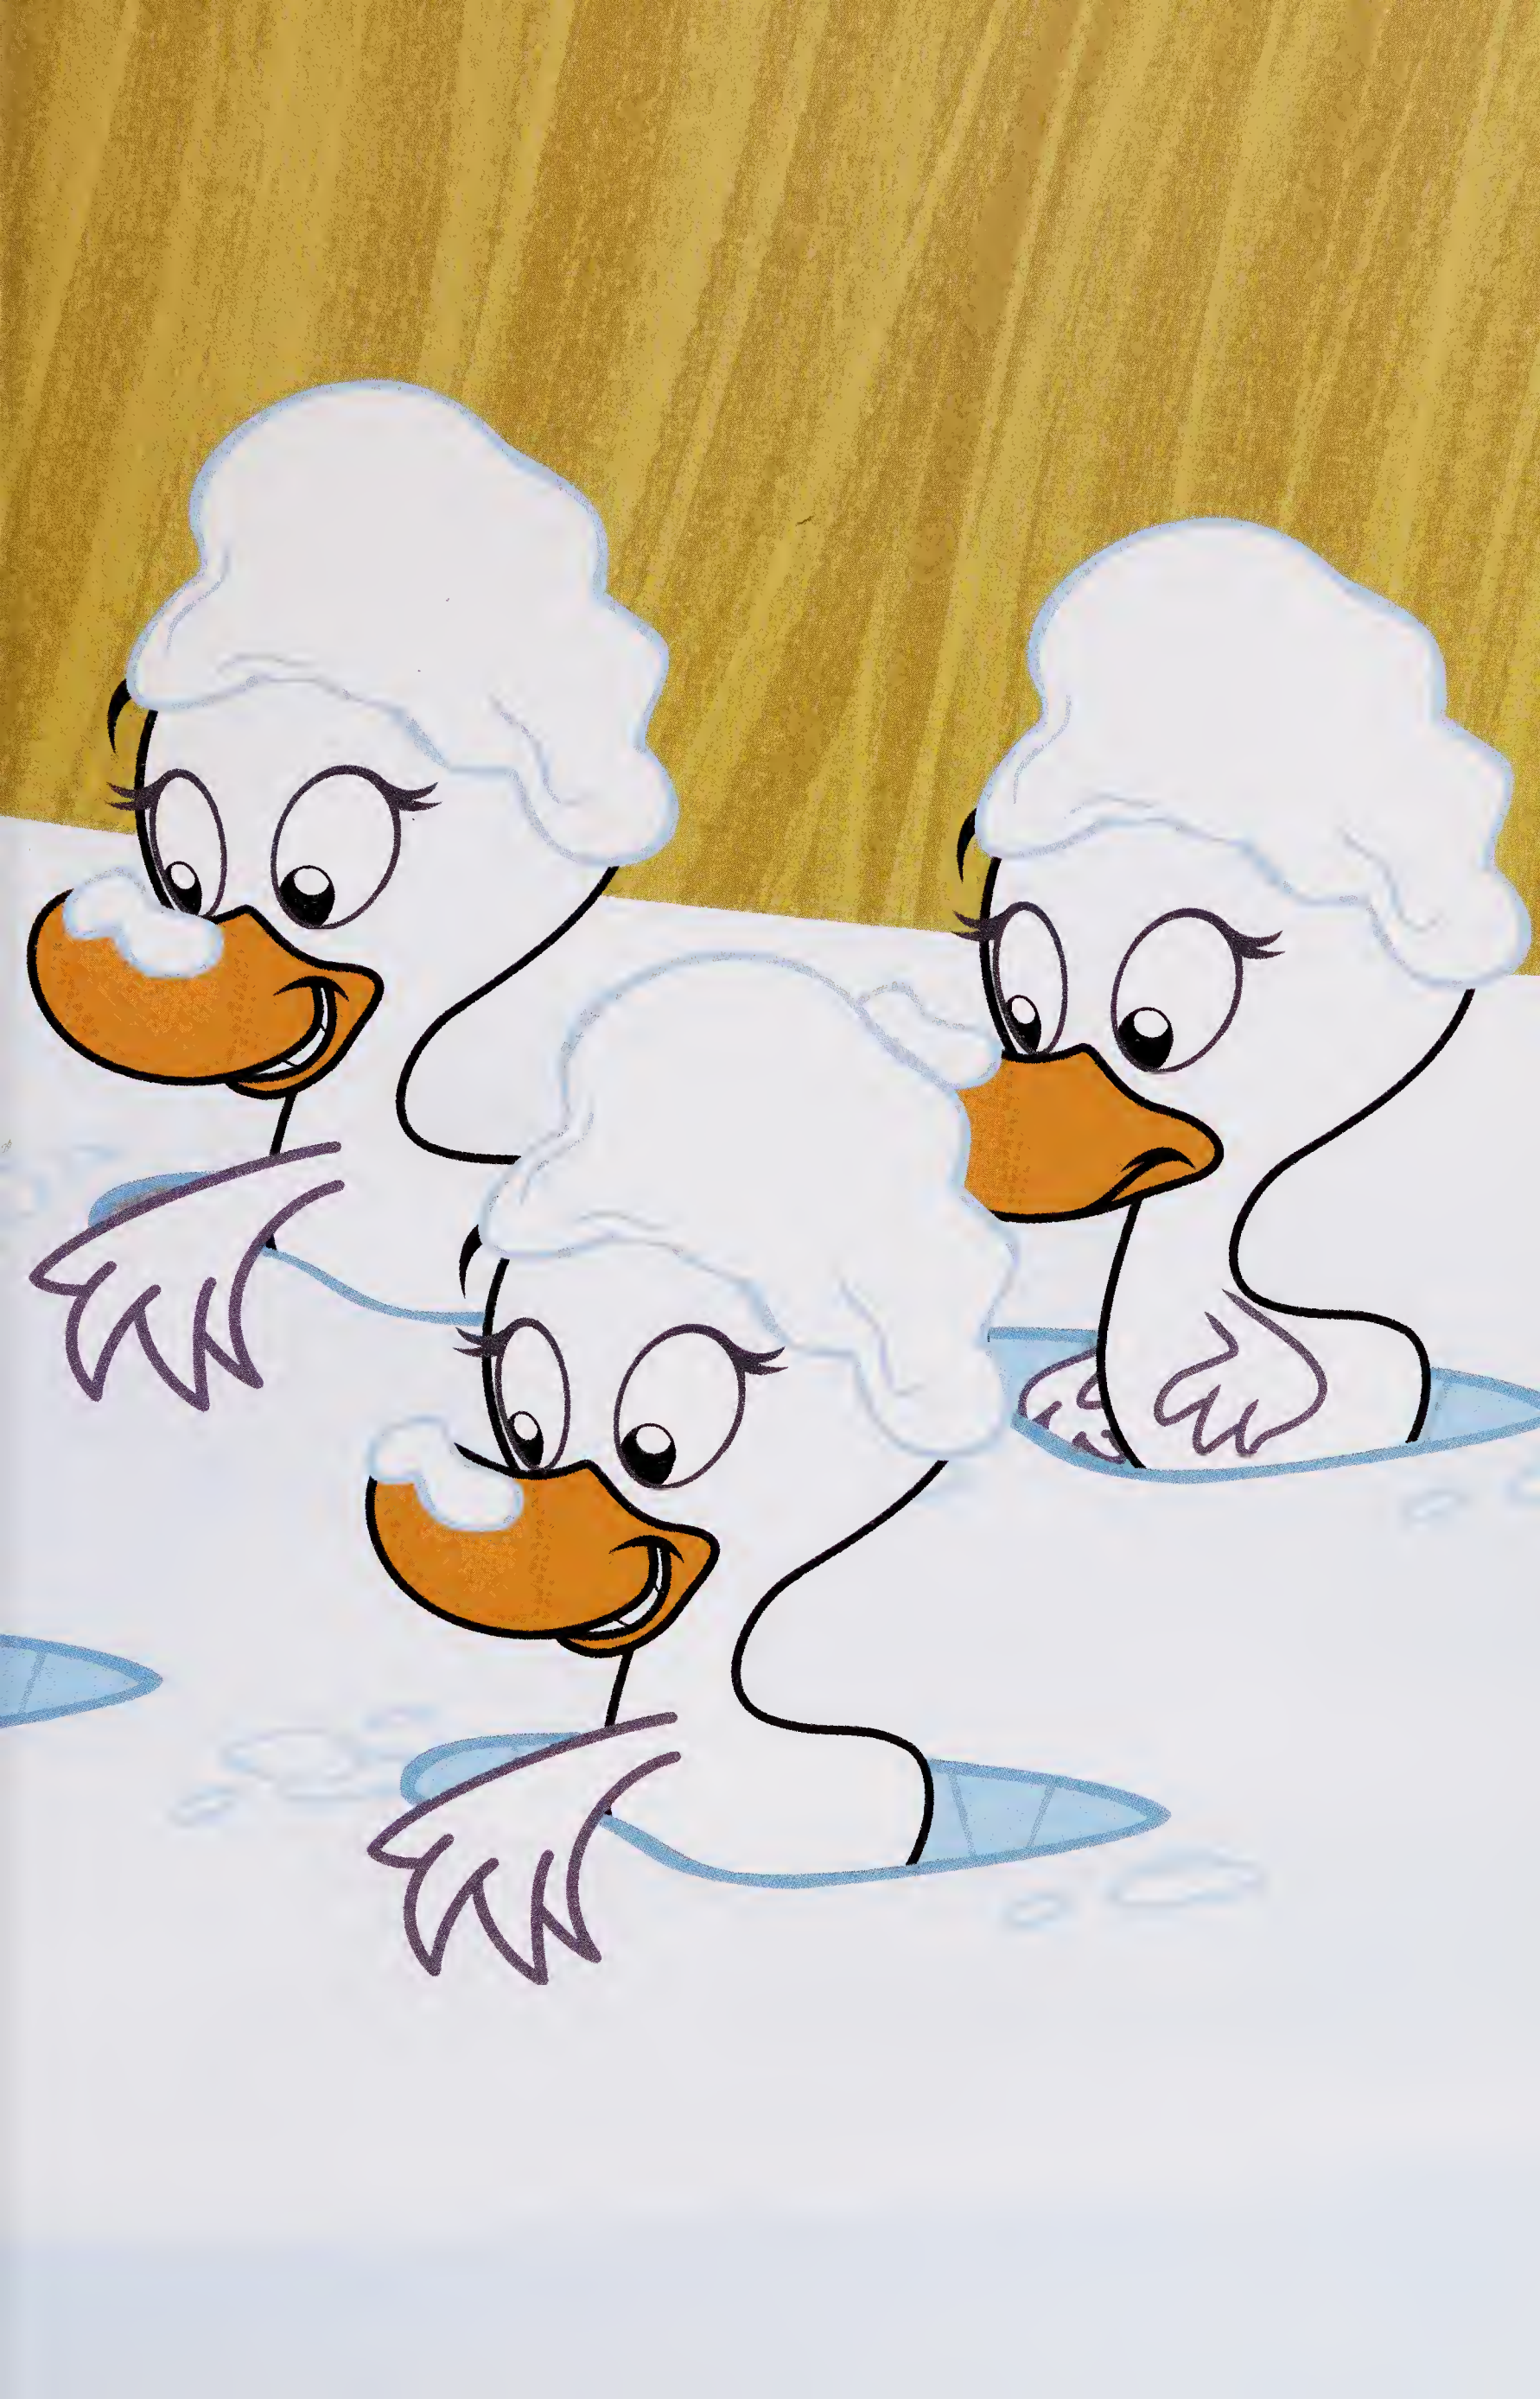
"Wake up!" said Rabbit.
"Come see your first snow."
The Gibble Goose Girls
popped up.

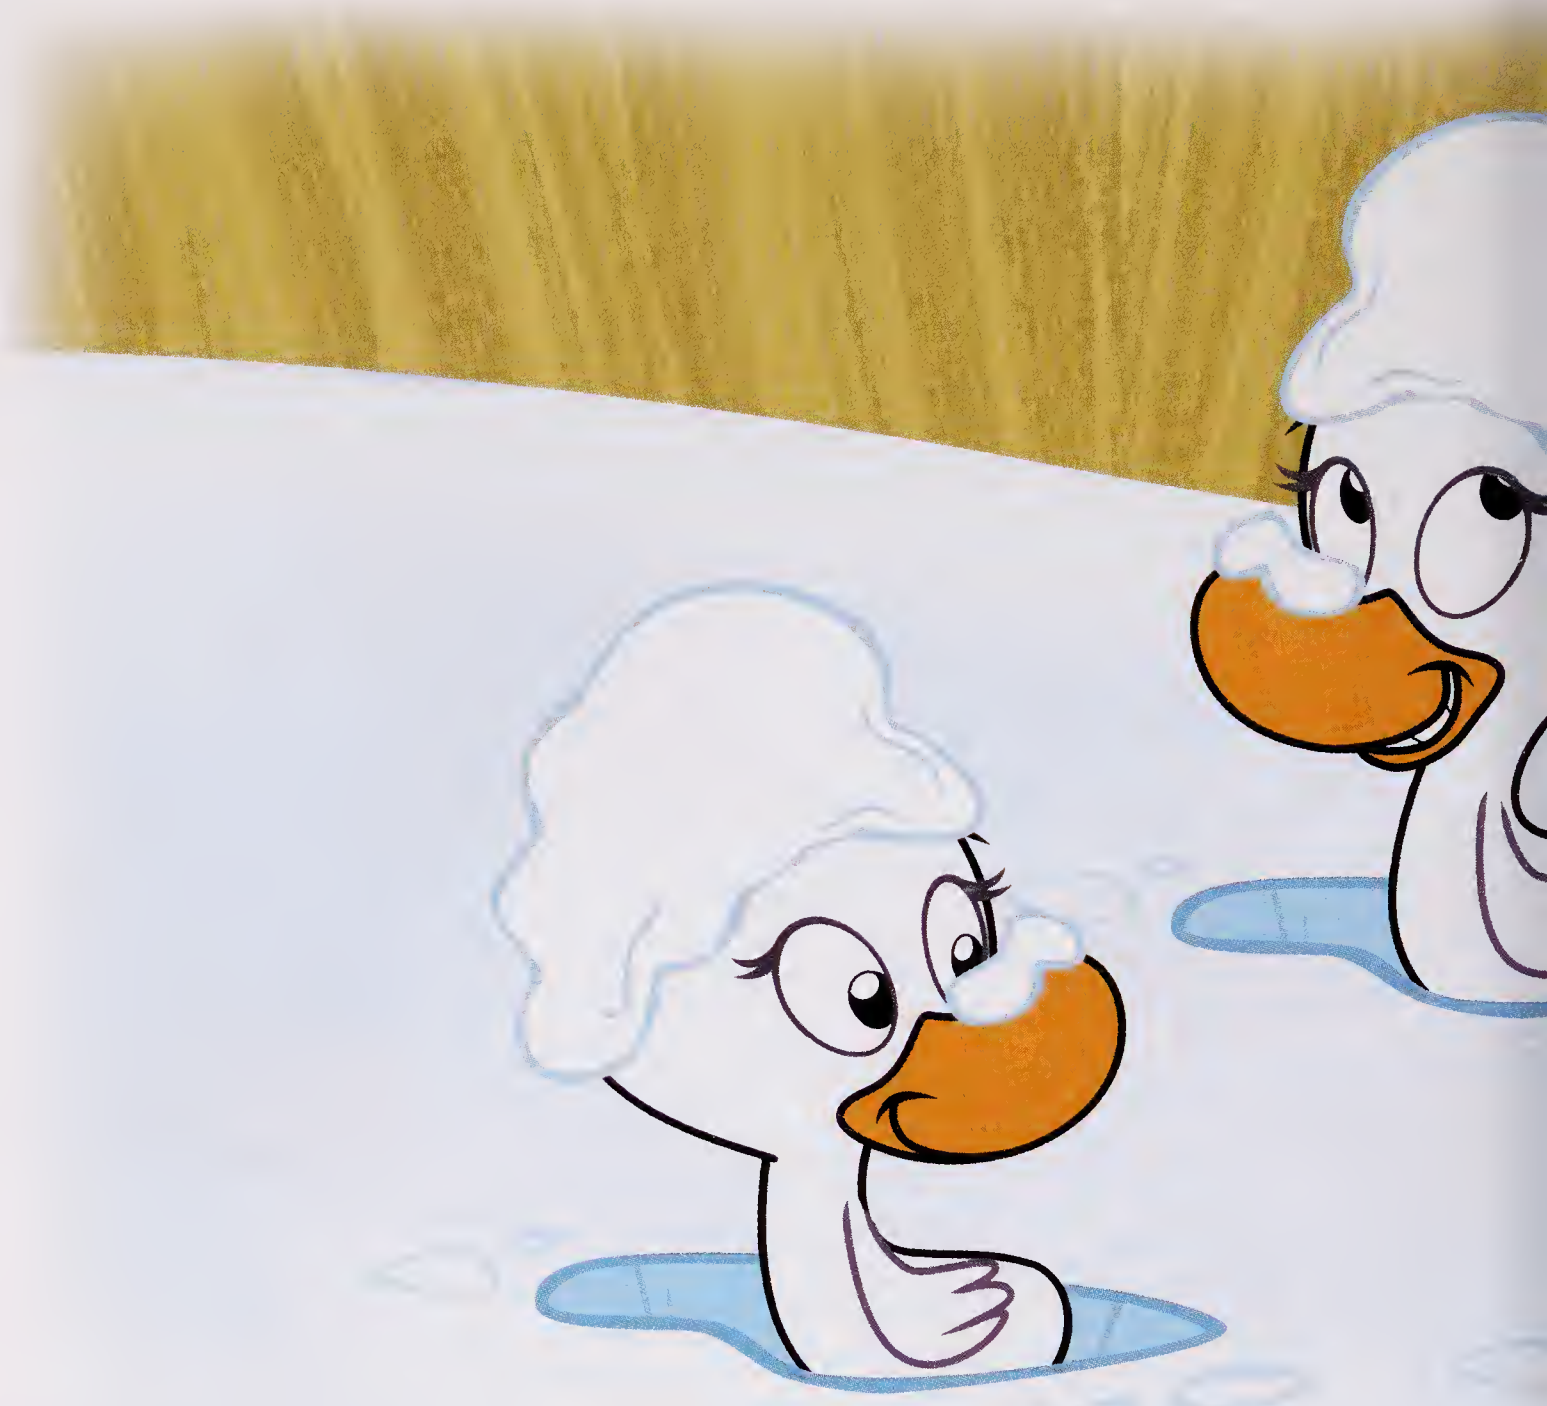
"Snow is so soft!"

"So sparkly!"

"So shiny!"

"So . . . everywhere."



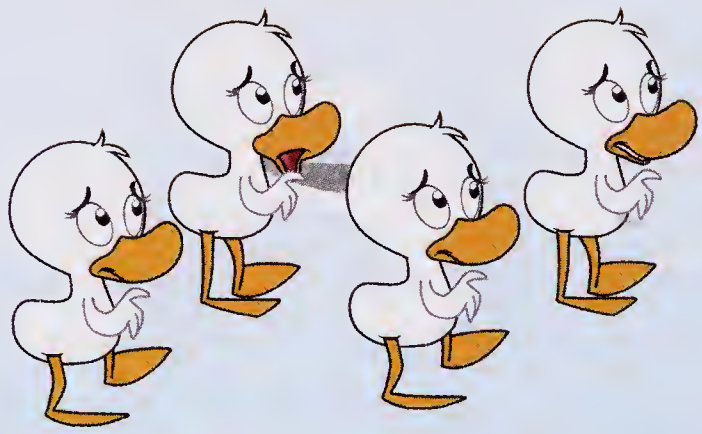


"Should we go explore?"
asked Amber.

"But our nests are safe!"
said Jade.

"You can't stay there forever," said Mouse.

"Let's go!"
said the Gibble Goose Girls.



"Ice is hard."

"It's not nice."

"You can't paddle in it."

"Make it melt!"

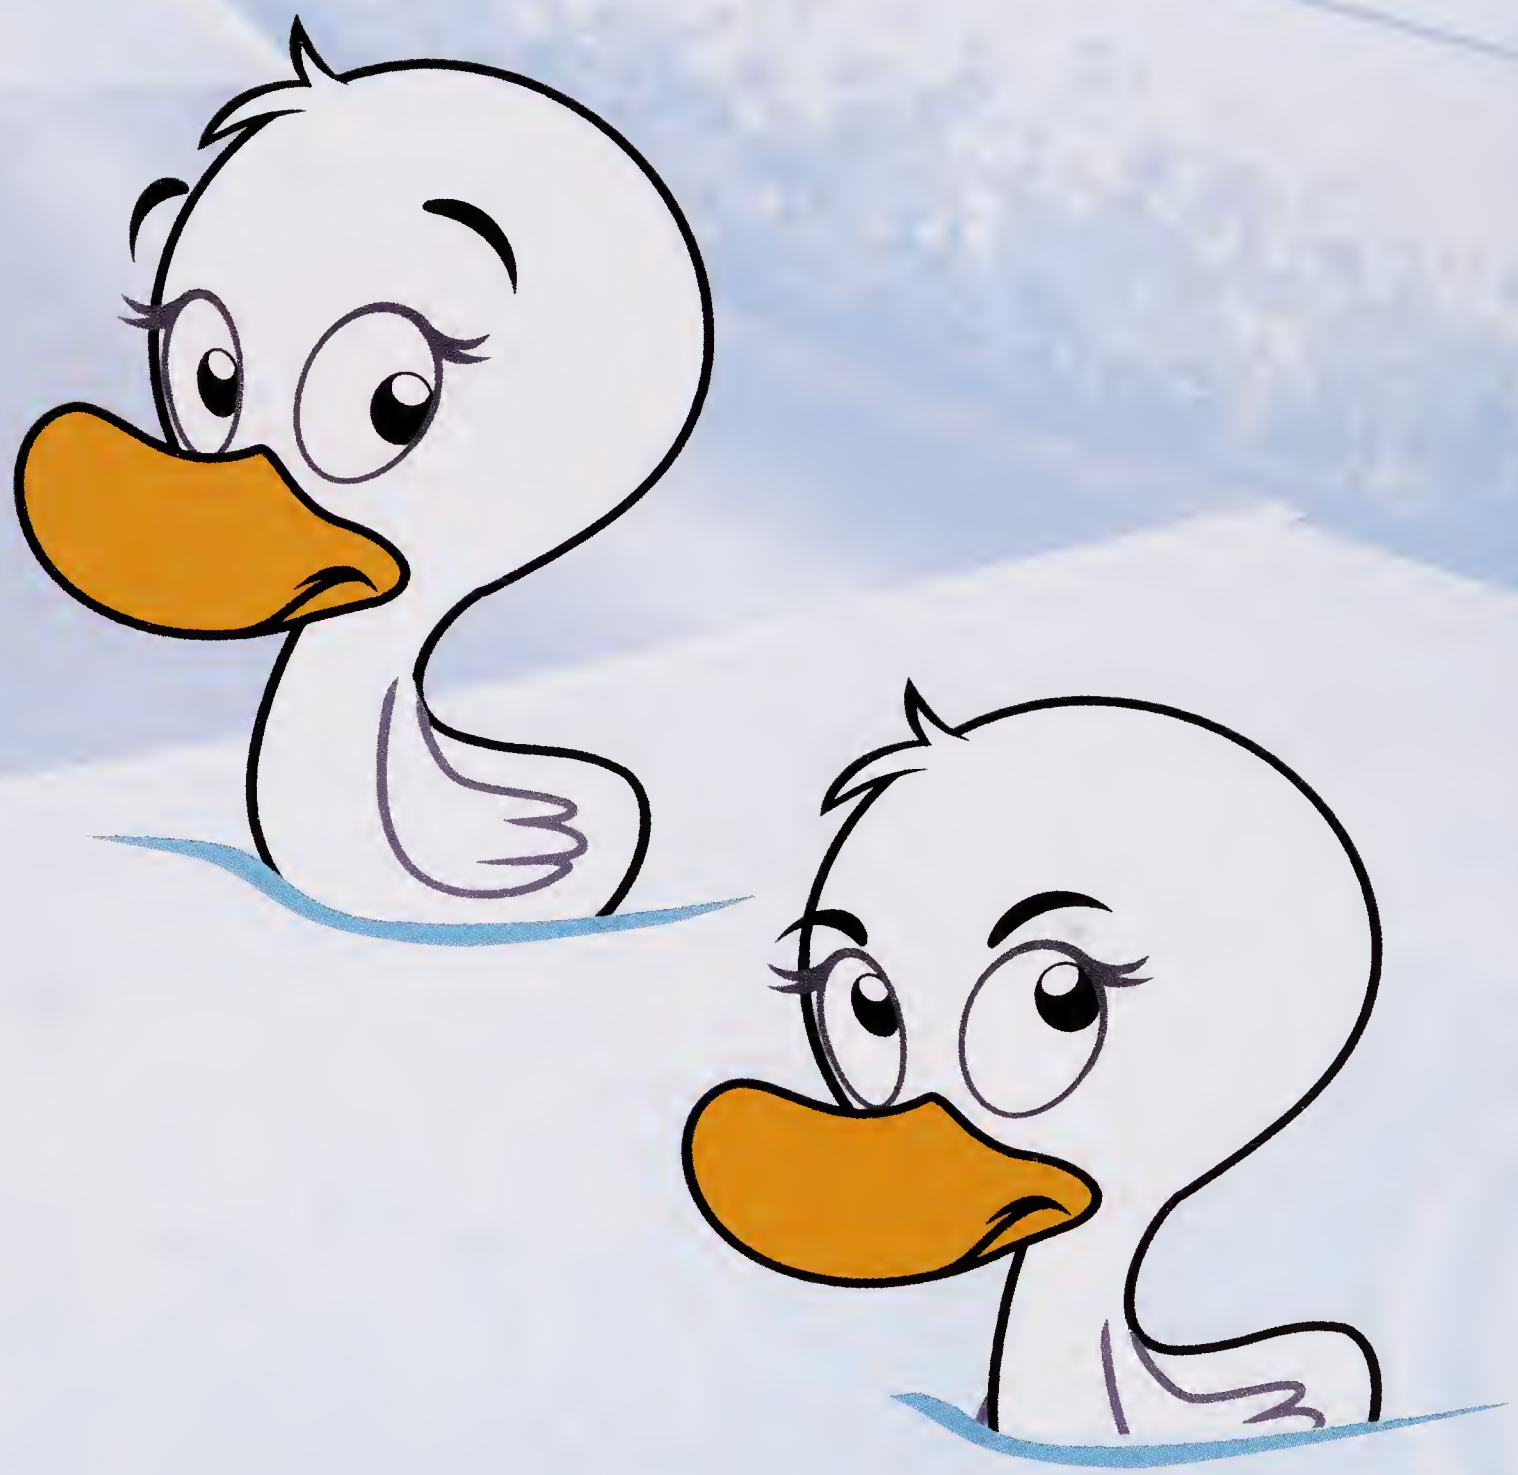
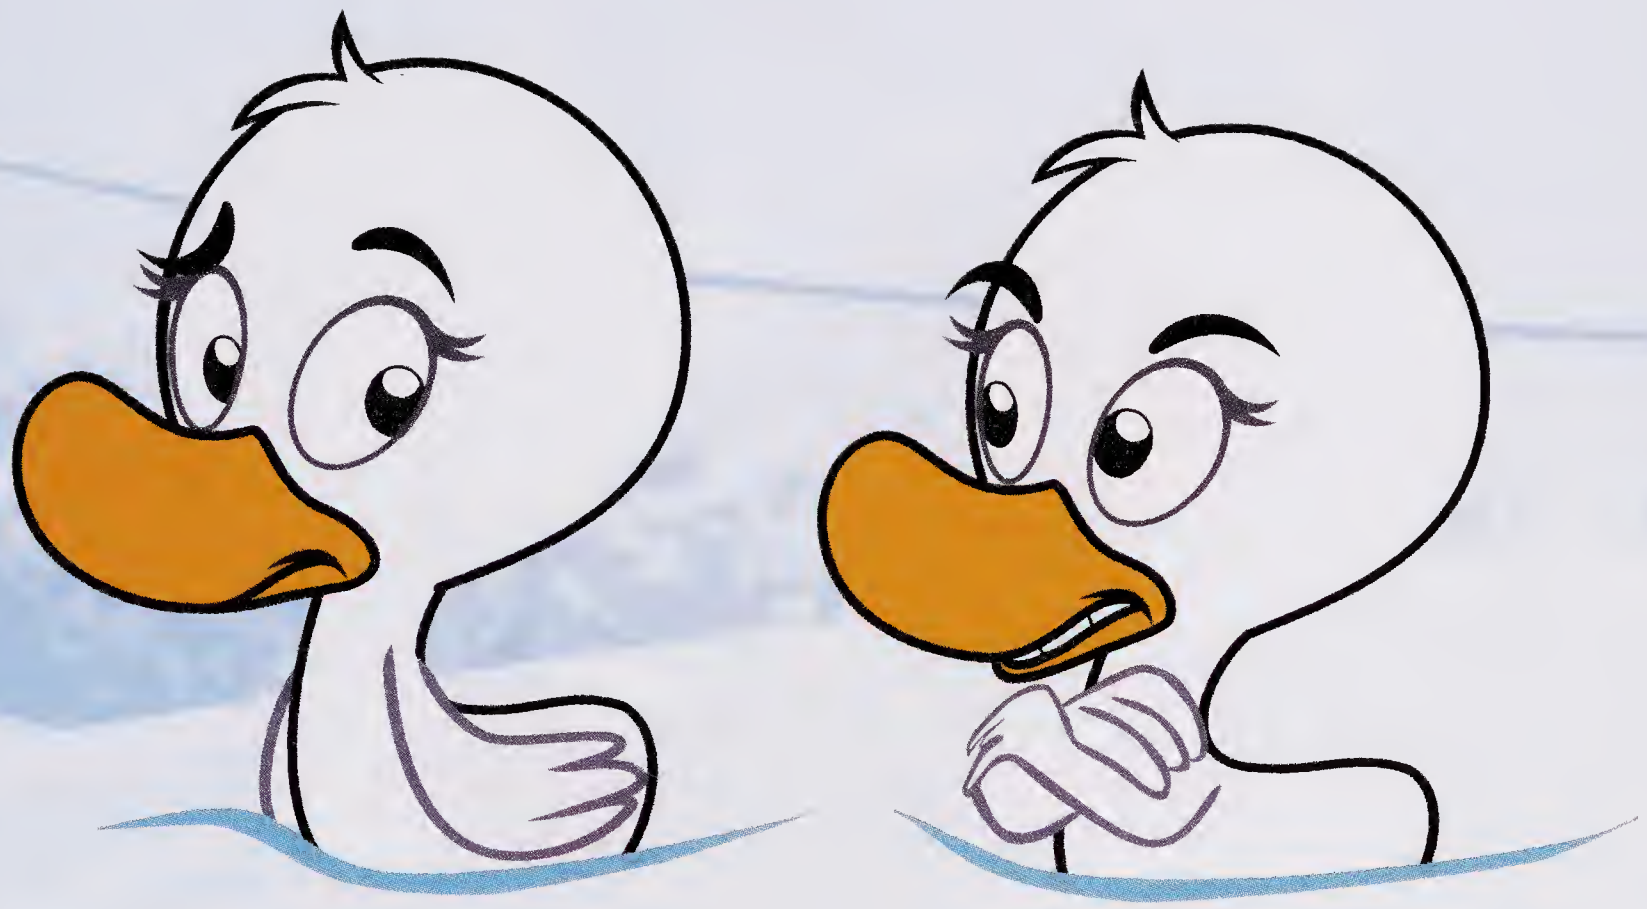
"You can't paddle in it."

"Make it melt!"



"Winter is not fun,"



said the Gibble Goose Girls.

Then Mouse had an idea.

Mouse and Rabbit cleared off the ice.

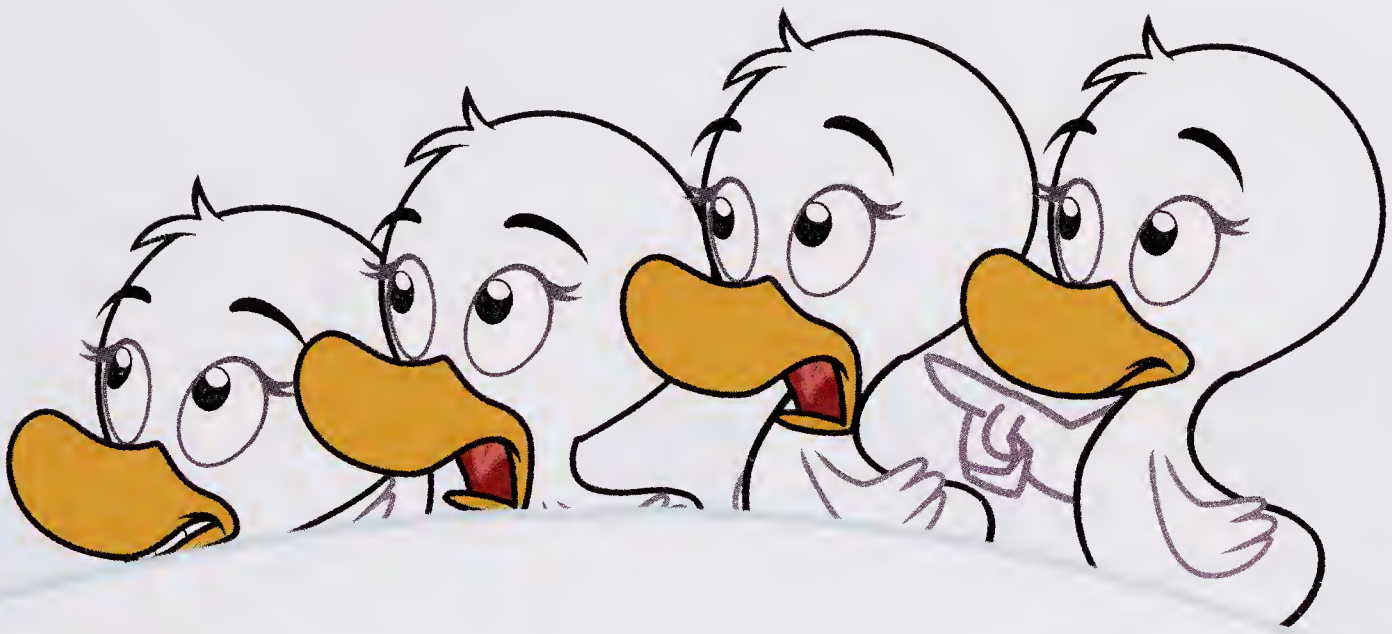
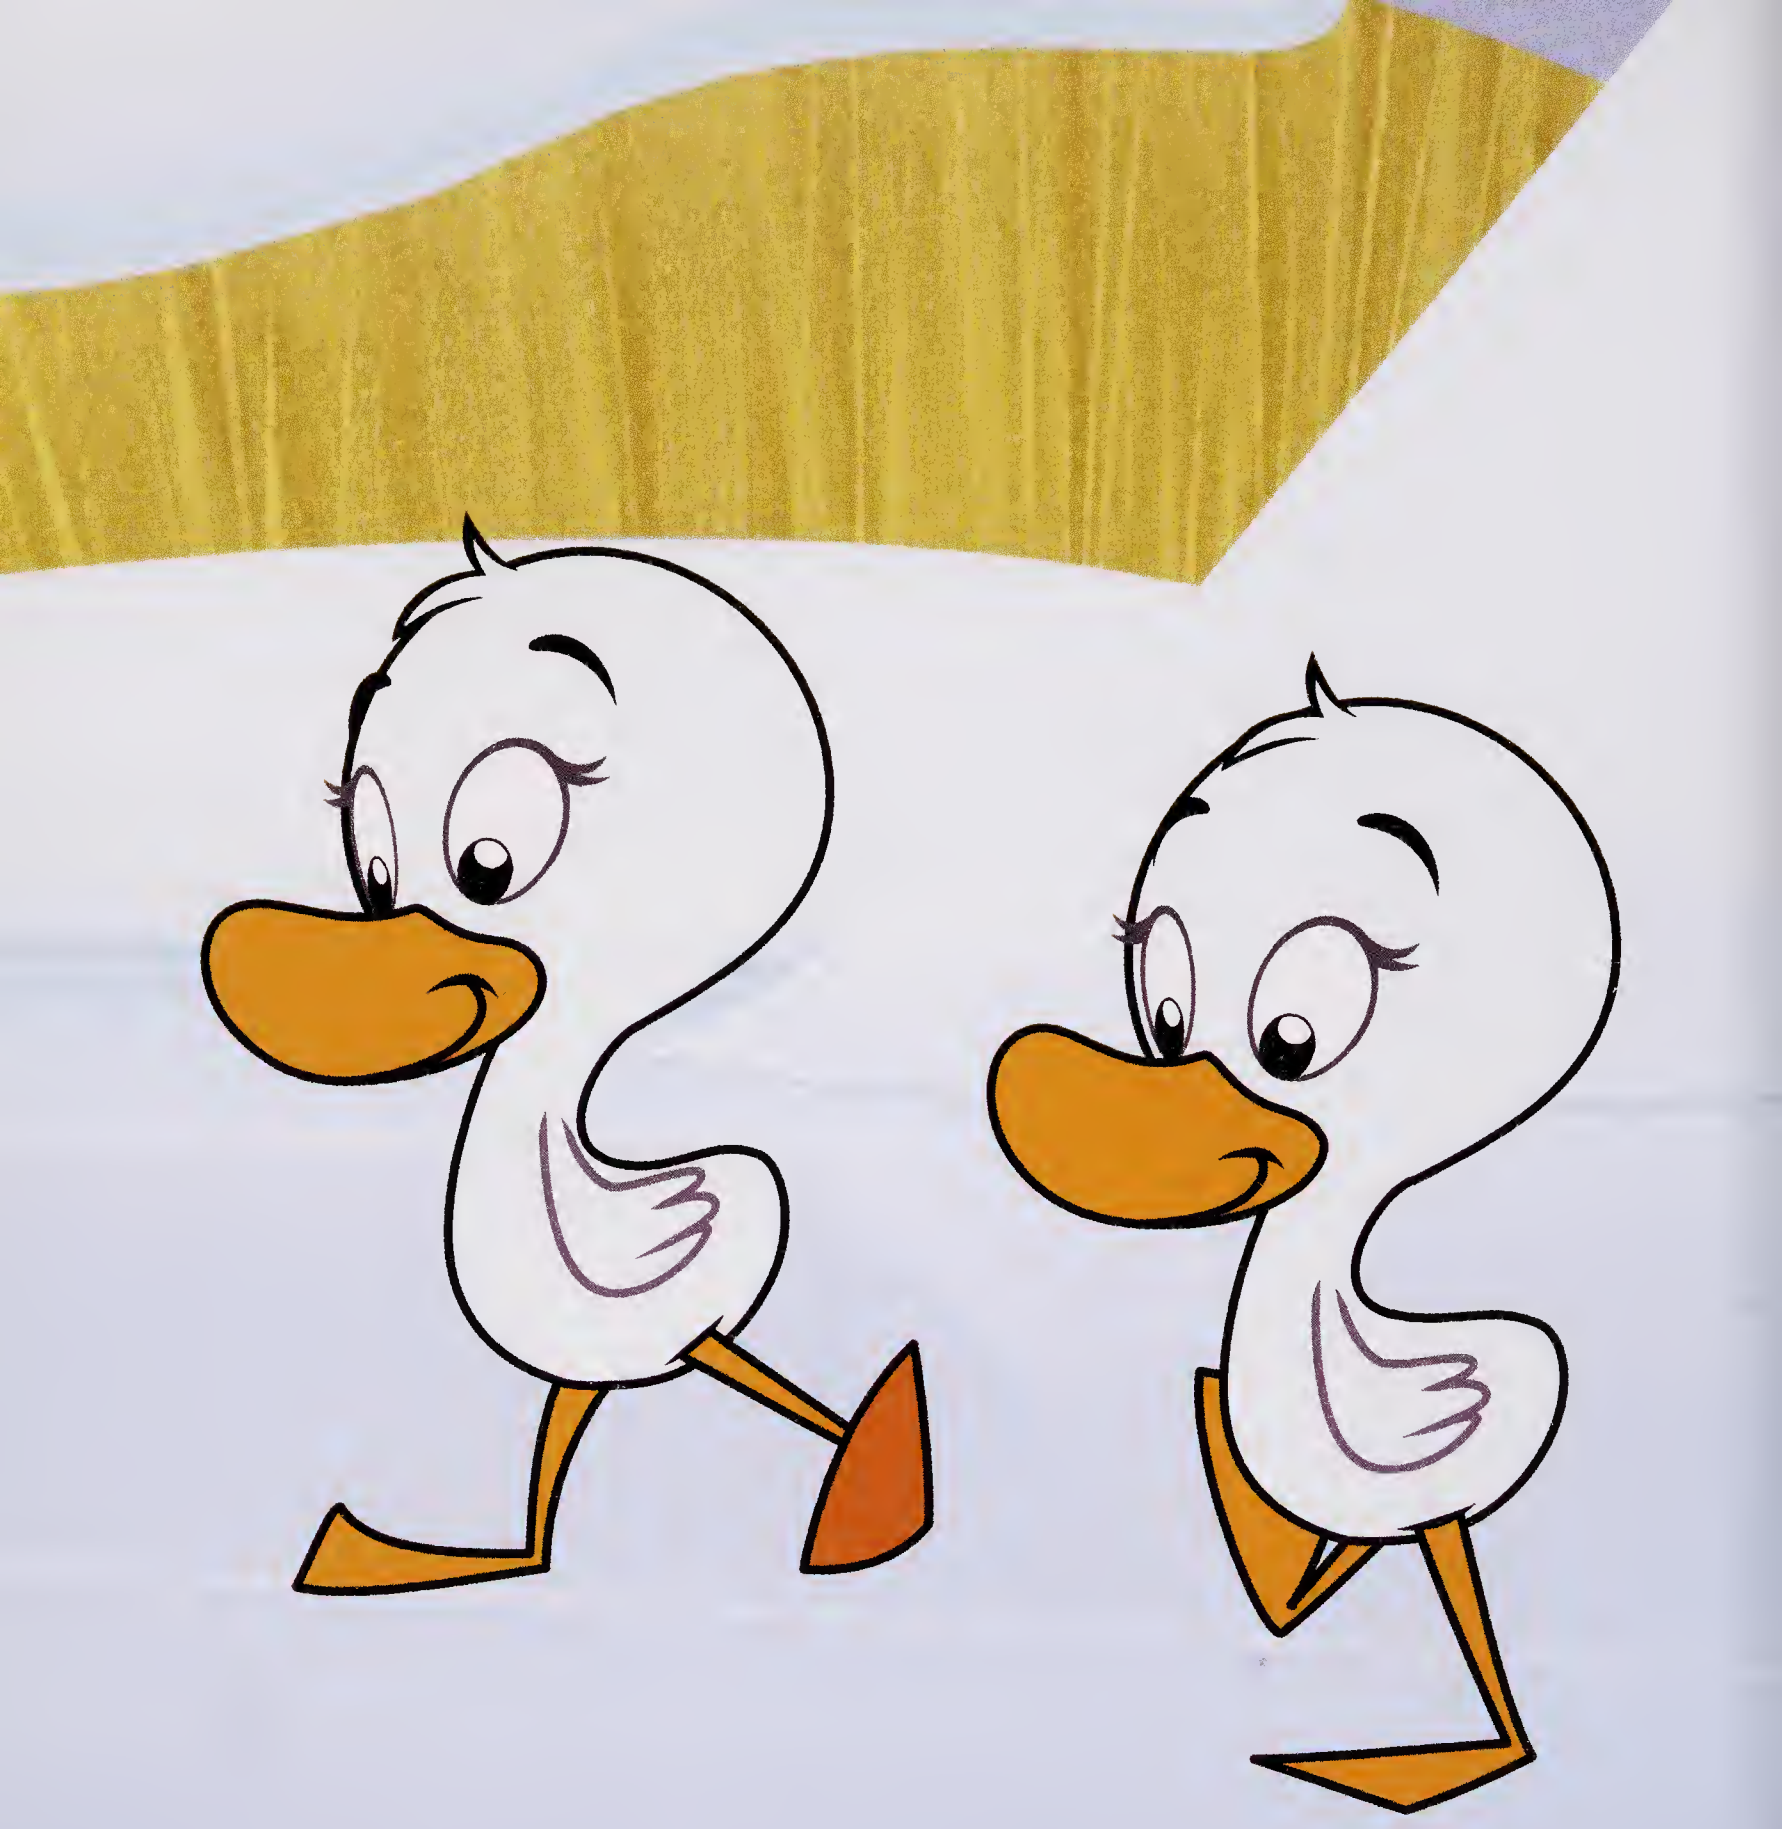
"Whee!"
Rabbit and Mouse
slid across the ice.

The Gibble Goose Girls watched.





"We could try."

"It seems okay."

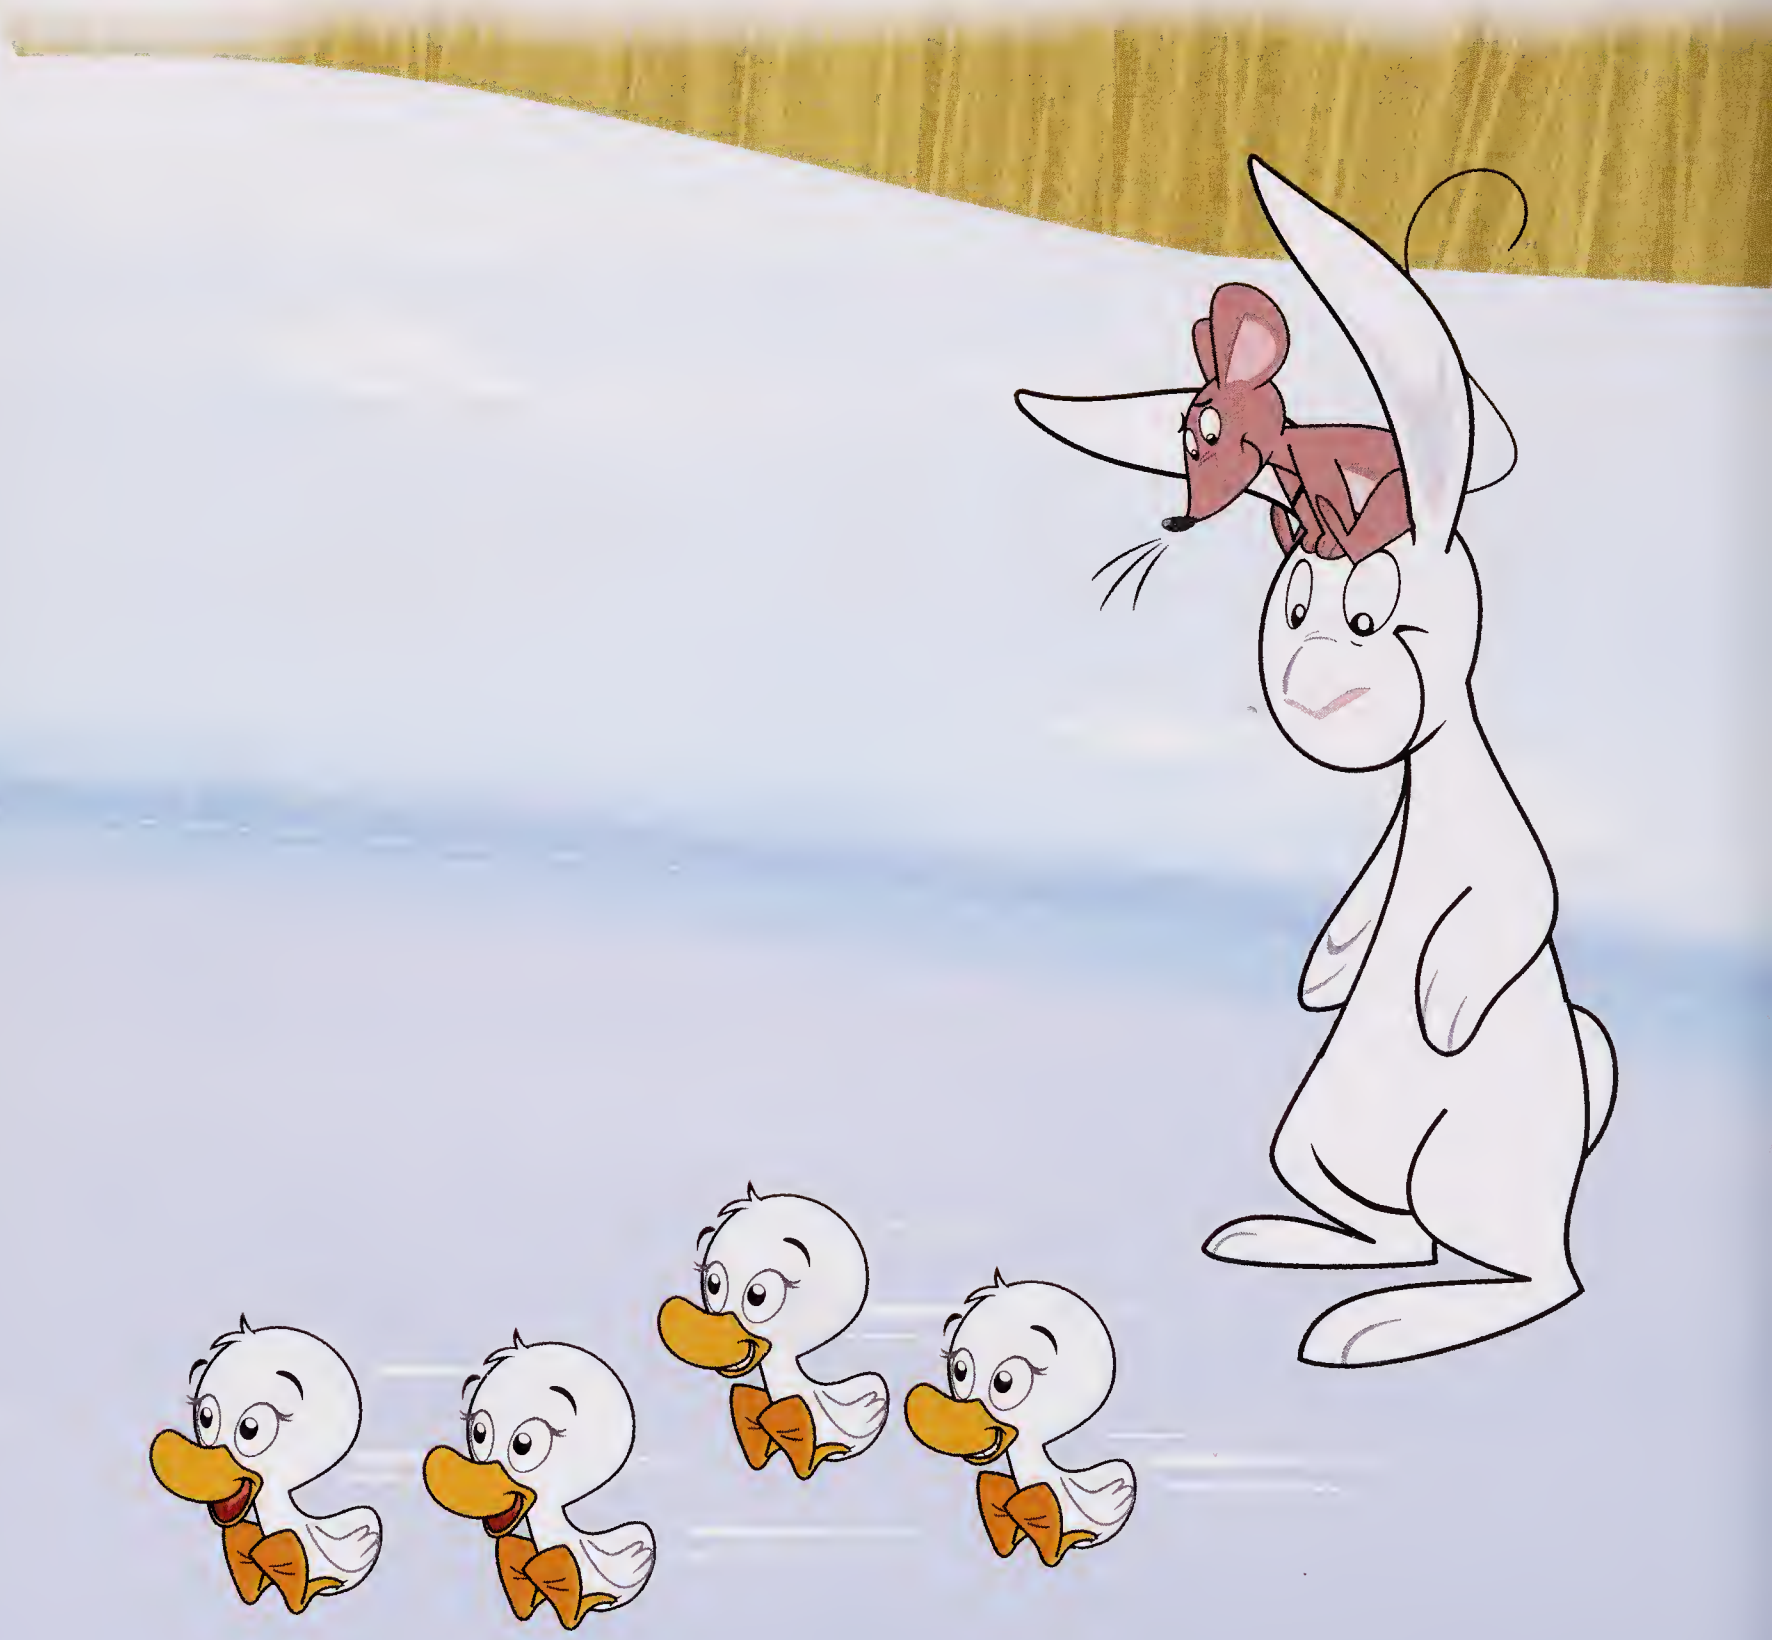
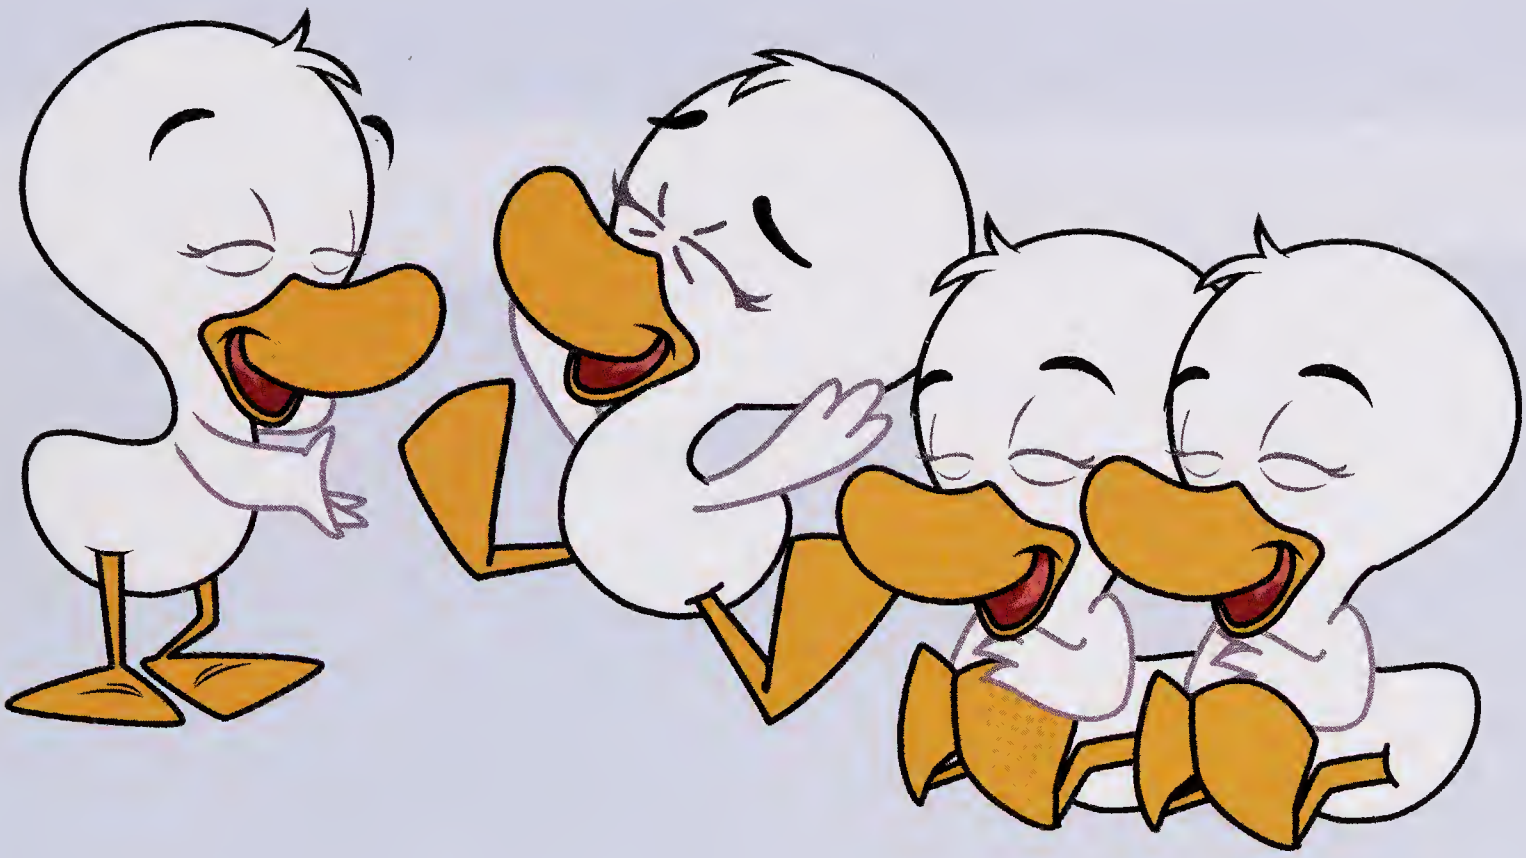
"Wait for me!"

"Whee!"
The Gibble Goose Girls
slid across the ice, too.



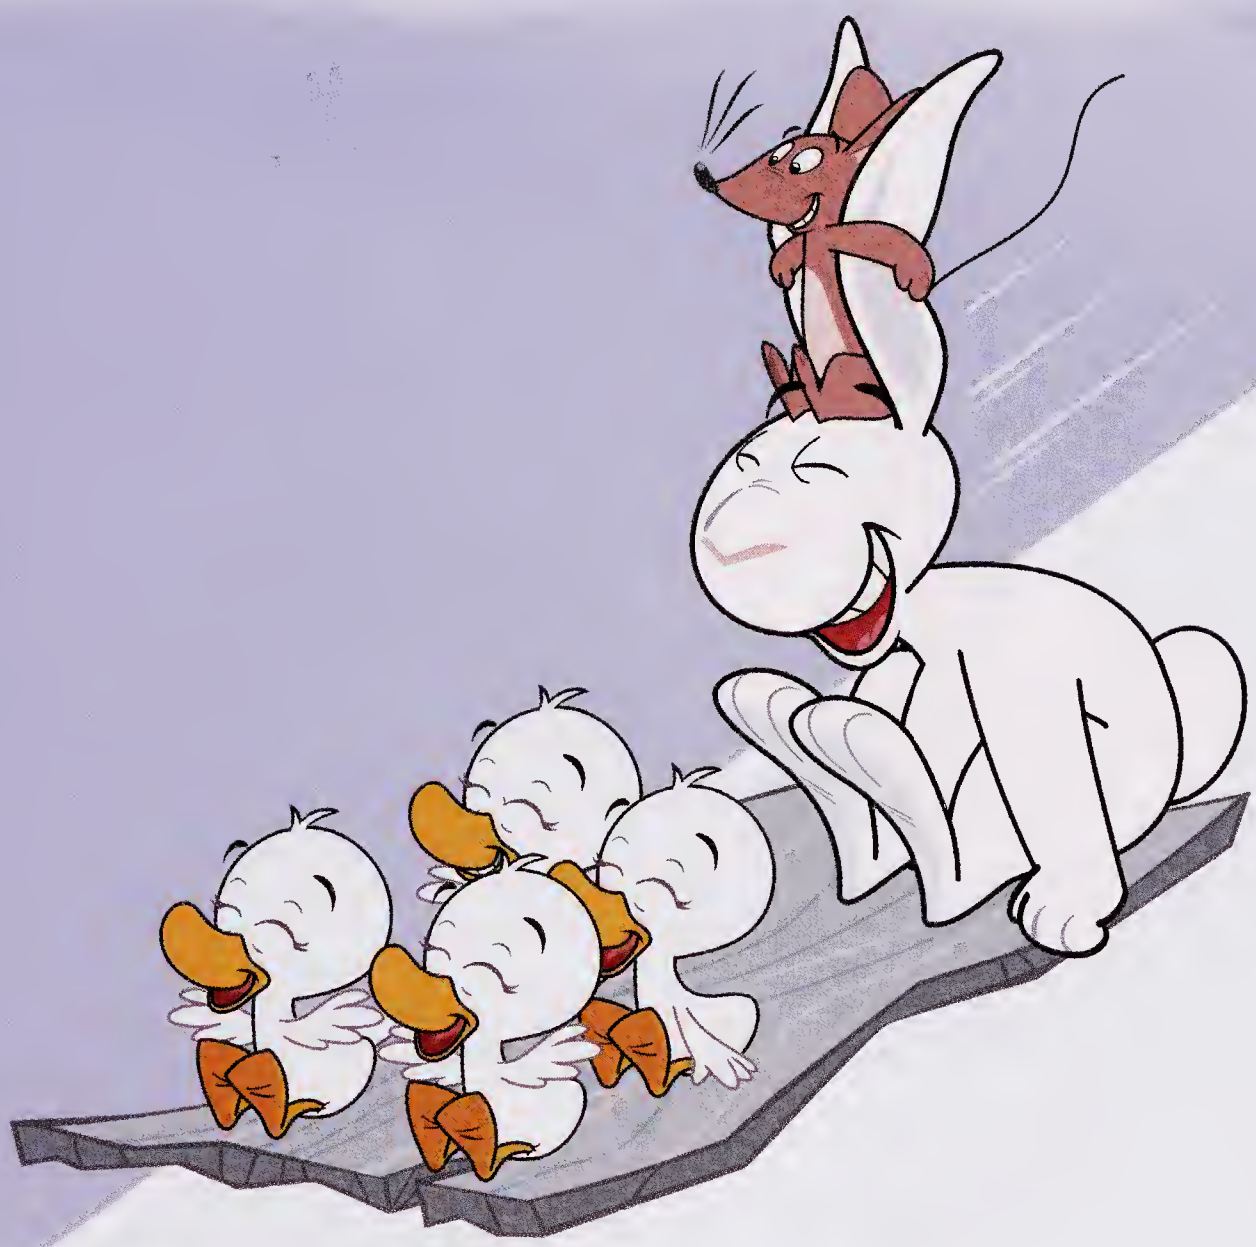


“Let’s do that again!”

They slid across the ice
all morning.

“Ice is fun,” said Amber.
“You can’t slide on water.”

Later, they went sledding.



"You can't go sledding on grass," said Pearl.

They made a snowman.
"You can't build snowmen with rain," said Coral.

"Now we like winter—
a lot," said Jade.

And the Gibble Goose Girls went home happy
after their first day of winter.
